19. Sept. 39.

Dear Sara Carr!

Many thanks for your letter. I really feel sorry for you, because of your troubles, but what am I to do about it? I can just imagine you running from one Police Station to the other to get your papers. Have you got them already or don't you need them any more. What about your job? Why is such Berl against it? What are you going to do? What's the matter with Tully? I wrote him twice and I didn't get a answer. I hope he is all right. Please do tell him to write me immediately. I have got a lovely letter from Estes last week, I think she wrote to you too. I don't know anything about Herdis. How shall I know that. What do you think about Poland? Our relations and all the other peoples. Oh it is terrible to think of that. And write out any post from Vienna. Believe me, sometimes I am so unhappy, that I don't know what to do. Such a lot of troubles. That spoilt all my temper. — Now I'll tell you something about us.

Generally we are 13 peoples. Sometimes even more. That house is really very nice. We have 8 bedrooms, and a beautiful big garden. We are usually 8 women, so that everybody has to do something, but not too much. You know. I have got plenty time for doing things what I like. In the evening I mostly go for a little walk or listen to the wireless. We had $\frac{1}{2}$ here ~~our~~, Bormoor is really a nice village. Often it remembered me on Kobersdorf or Sauerbrunn.

Please don't show that letter to anybody, I am sure there are such a lot of faults. But I have no patience to look at the dictionary or something like that, and I have no mind to write German. Let me hear from you as soon as possible. How is everybody?

Remembers me to uncle and aunt and give my love to the children

Love and kisses

Fay.
